The Daily News.

NEWPORT.

BY CRANSTON & NORMAN,
127 THAMES STREET.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1850.

THE TELEGRAPH.

As the management in the disposition of the Telegraphic Line between this place and Fall River, now being erected, has been so outrageously unfair, and as the conduct of certain men connected with it has been so mean and contemptible, we intend now to give a full exposition of the whole matter, from the beginning to the end, in order to let the public, who are interested in the thing, fully understand all the transactions connected with this Telegraph,—they will then see that certain prominent men, in this business, occupy anything but an honorable or an honest position.

On the 18th of June, Mr. T. V. Allen, of Ithica, New York, a Telegraph Contractor, visited this place and presented a letter of introduction to the Editor of this paper from Gov. Anthony, with a request from the latter that we would assist Mr. Allen in regard to the Telegraph. We at once advised Mr. Allen what we could do to pursue, brought the matter urgently before the public through the News, called with him upon many of the citizens, and did all in our power towards having the stock subscribed. We advised him to call upon other men, with whom we disagreed, but did not give him any reason why we did not call at these places with him,—but simply gave him to understand that we were too busy. Among these we named to him Mr. Benjamin Finch, a business man who would probably assist. We stated to Mr. Allen, as an inducement, perhaps, for some to subscribe, and in order to lessen the expense of the line, and, if possible, secure its establishment, that we would furnish the Company office room and an operator at this end of the line, free of expense; and at Mr. Allen's request we stated this offer in the paper. Mr. Allen called on Mr. Finch, and here was the first manifestation of contemptible conduct in this transaction. Mr. Finch stated to Mr. Allen that he had had a political quarrel with the editor of this paper, and if the Telegraph Depot was to be in the News Office, he did not feel like having anything to do with it.

This, surely, was very manly conduct, and worthy of the most honorable head and heart! It is true that we had had a quarrel with this Mr. Finch, about three years ago, in a political escuse at the Town Hall, in consequence of his having there charged against us, which we indignantly repelled to his face, and threw back the charge upon him. We were aware of all this, but we did not permit our feelings to influence us, in this business matter of a Telegraph, and we, therefore, recommended Mr. Allen to call on Mr. Finch; his soul, however, was too small and his malignant feelings too bitter to permit this opportunity to injure us to pass unimproved.

Mr. Allen pursued his work, and we continued to do all in our power to aid him, both editorially and personally. In due course of time a sufficient amount of the stock was taken to induce Mr. Allen to put up the line; a meeting of the stockholders was called, and they selected Henry Bull and William A. Clarke, Trustees, while Mr. Allen appointed Edward F. Newton a Trustee, on his part, he having that right by the articles of association. The meeting then adjourned to a subsequent day, but no notice was given of that adjournment, and when the time came, many of the stockholders did not attend, some of whom we know forgot it. Mr. Newton desired that notice of the meeting should be given, but others said it was not necessary.

At this adjourned meeting, unfairly held, we say, in consequence of a want of any kind of notice to the stockholders, the following persons were appointed a Committee to call upon such persons as they thought would hire the line, and to lease it to such as they thought proper—NOT TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, as is usual. The following is the Committee:—

HENRY BULL,
EDWARD F. NEWTON,
BENJAMIN FINCH,
WILLIAM A. CLARKE,
DAVID G. COOK.

The last three on this Committee entertained anything but friendly feelings towards us, at least one of them had loudly asserted, before this time, that the Telegraph office must not be established at the News office, under any circumstances.

Now we say that no really honorable man, knowing that we were prominent applicants for the line, and feeling unkindly towards us, would permit himself to be placed in a position where he would be called upon to decide a question in which his enemy was interested,—because every one knows that no man can entirely control his feelings, so that he can do strict justice, even in a business transaction, towards a man with whom he is at war. This is human nature.

The ground we take is this,—that the stockholders should have advertised, a fair length of time, for sealed proposals for the line; and when the time expired, the Proposals should have been opened all at the same time, and the line given to whoever made the best offer; this would have been a fair, honest business transaction, and no one could have complained of the result. This course was not pursued, because many of the stockholders knew nothing about the underhanded operations which were going on, while a few men were exceedingly busy in arranging matters to suit themselves, and which would accomplish the result which they desired. They packed a Committee, a majority of which was composed of our personal enemies. They instructed that Committee to call upon such as they thought might want the line,—and then to GIVE IT TO WHOEVER THEY SAW FIT,—and not to the highest bidder, as it should have been, in justice to all the stockholders, many of whom were not present when this Committee was appointed, in consequence of a want of notice, as we have before stated. As soon as we heard what had been done, we were satisfied that certain managing men in this matter were determined that we should not have the control of the line, at any rate,—and it, therefore, mattered not what terms we might offer, we should be cheated out of it by some kind of legerdemain. We then concluded to have nothing to do with it, and so stated to Messrs. Henry Bull and David G. Cook, when they called on us, last Monday afternoon, and asked for our terms. A short time after this, our business partner came in, and we stated to him what had been done and said. He, however, concluded to put in proposals, but had not the least expectation that justice would be rendered to the firm. Mr. Norman has the exclusive control of the business affairs of this office, and we never interfere in their management; he wrote out the following proposals, which were sealed up and directed to "David G. Cook, Esq., and others, Committee of the Newport Telegraph Company."

NEWPORT, July 1, 1850.
Messrs. David G. Cook and others,
Committee of the Newport Telegraph Company.

WE propose to hire the Newport Telegraph Line, for one year, for which we will pay the Company four per cent. on the capital stock; ($4,350,) the line to be kept in order by us and at our own expense, during said time.

Should you accept our terms, the office will be in our building, but in a separate room from the News office, and will be operated by a competent young man whom we shall employ for that purpose. We will not employ any man whom we have received by Telegraph.

The rules regulating the office would be those established at other offices; and we should put the rates for despatches as low as we possibly could, for our own benefit, as well as that of the public, in order to induce patronage.

Yours very respectfully,
CRANSTON & NORMAN.

Mr. Norman handed these Proposals SEALED, to David G. Cook, at four o'clock, Monday afternoon. Up to half past three o'clock, that afternoon, the best and only terms which Mr. Kinsley had offered were to take the line for the receipt, giving the Company all he might receive over three hundred dollars, should the amount of income exceed that sum.

Now comes the most HONORABLE part of this transaction, in which a majority of that packed Committee rendered the AMPLEST JUSTICE to us.

We say that some member or members of that Committee made known to Mr. Kinsley, either directly or indirectly, after our Proposals were handed in, and before the Committee held their meeting in the evening, what our terms were, and not only ASKED BUT BEGGED OF HIM to take the line, paying six per cent., and they would agree to take their compensation in Telegraphic matter. We make this charge, and now we say that each of the Committee as are innocent of the charge can exonerate themselves, if they are so disposed, by making a full denial of it, in notes to us, which we will publish. We know what we are talking about and we have the facts in our possession. We ask that moral or legal right David G. Cook or any other member of that Committee had to open our sealed proposals before the time when the Committee met in the evening, and what right he or they had to convey to Mr. Kinsley, directly or indirectly, what our terms were, or to suggest to him, or to others so that it might reach him, that he had better offer such and such terms, and that if he did they would be accepted?

We want these questions answered, and we mean that the public shall understand the swindling and dishonest course which was pursued towards us in this matter, a purely business transaction, by our bitter enemies.

In the first place, we say that many of the stockholders subscribed with the assurance that the line should be worked free of expense, at this end, and that it would pay a fair interest to them.

In consequence of subsequent management we say that such stockholders are not legally bound now to take their stock, because of the fraud which has been practiced upon them.

In the second place, the meeting at which this Committee was appointed was an illegal one, in consequence of a want of notice of the same to the stockholders; hence the latter are not legally bound by the acts of that meeting.

In the third place, we say that the Committee did not pursue such a course as was for the best interest of the stockholders, which, in connection with the illegalities already stated, render their proceedings voidable, if the Company think proper to make them so.

Thus we have presented this whole matter fairly and truly before the public, and we ask of them if the slightest confidence is to be reposed in those men who have so basely swindled us of our rights, in these transactions. If they suppose that their dishonest acts can all be amortized, for they have tho, are very much mistaken, for they have tho, wrong man to deal with, for any such conclusion. We want no favoritism whatever but we simply ask for justice to be rendered out to us, without a wicked and base infringement of our rights.

THE NATIONAL GUARDS arrived here yesterday morning, and took quarters at the Ocean House; they number about 40 men. In the afternoon they paraded through the streets escorted by the Artillery Company of this town, with music by the U. S. Band from Fort Adams. They looked remarkably well.

It is said that a Town Meeting is about being called for the purpose of giving some instructions to the Town Council, relative to a proper and legal exercise of their duties.

WE are requested to say to the subscribers to the Telegraph that if any of them do not wish to take their 8 per cent. in Telegraphic matter, if they are afflicted with the rheumatism, they can be put in communication with the hortary and receive their 6 per cent. in shocke. Scrip for this purpose can be obtained of the Committee, transferable only in their presence.

A Court Martial, consisting of 13 officers, of which Gen. Clinch is President, assembled at Fort Adams yesterday, for the purpose of trying Lieuts. Stewart and Quinby, who have preferred charges against each other.

IT is said that a string of cottages three miles long, will be erected in Newport for the accommodation of visitors; they will be completed in about three years. It is highly important that they should be leased immediately; the tenants to pay rent to the proprietors, six per cent. on pairs. For further information apply to the Telegraph Committee.

63-The Fourth of July was moderately observed in this town, according to previous announcement. The U. S. troops from Fort Adams, under the command of Major Sherman, the Artillery Company, the Orator, reader, and Clergyman formed the procession, which marched through the streets to the State House, where, after excellent music by the U. S. Band, the Declaration of Independence was read by Cyrus Bean, Esq., an eloquent and appropriate prayer offered by the Rev. Henry Jackson, and a well-written Oration delivered by William G. Hammond, Esq.

64-Park Benjamin, Esq., delivered his poem, "The Age of Gold," to a very large and intelligent audience, on Thursday evening, at the Bazaar Hall. The Hall was filled, and every one appeared highly pleased, if we may judge anything by constantly smiling faces, hearty laughing, almost constant clapping of hands, &c., &c. Mr. Benjamin announced his intention of giving three or four humorous Dramatic Readings of Comedies, by authors of well known and acknowledged merit. We have no doubt but that these Readings will be very popular. Due notice will be given of the time of commencing.

The new Chapel on Church street, above High street, will be opened for Morning Service, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, on Sunday, July 7th, at half past ten o'clock. All the costs in this Chapel are free.

65-The present population of Boston is 138,788.

In Amsterdam the principal prison is a rasc house, where Brazil wood is cut and rasped. No one is permitted to be idle there, and it is emphatically a house of correction. The incorrigible, too, are rasped with a rough stick, and put into a large vat of running water, where they can pump themselves dry or drown.

A Suicide was committed at Cleveland, Ohio, last week by Lavinia Cook, by taking oxalic acid during a depression of spirits caused by the sudden termination of a marriage engagement, or intimacy between herself and a Mr. H. Cowles. A beautiful locket containing Mr. Cowles' miniature, was found among her things, and one of the chambermaids stated she had seen it in Miss Cook's possession.

THE TOWER OF LAFAYETTE.—The Boston Transcript gives the following extract from a recent Paris letter:

We went in the direction of the Faubourg St. Antoine; and, as it was not very far from the Rue Picpus, and I wanted to see the grave of Lafayette, and S—had never seen it, we drove thither. It is not far from the Barriere du Throne. It is a very small, obscure spot, beyond a beautiful garden, belonging to a body of Religious. It contains the tombs of some of the oldest and most celebrated of the French Nobility—the Montmorencies, etc. All the family of Lafayette repose here.—He is side by side with his wife; and at their head is the stone slab of G. W. Lafayette. They are all mere stone slabs. Lafayette's is the last, close by the wall, and rests on stones and pebbles. Not a single blade of grass grows near it. I felt sorry to see it look so neglected. I asked our guide if it was visited by many people? He said no; sometimes the Americans visit it. I thought that was very strange.

THE following is an extract from a forthcoming drama:—"You come from—?" "Yes." "And you go to—" "Yes." "And you had a father and mother?" "I did." "And you had a sister?" "I did." "And that sister's name was—" "It was." "And your name is—" "The same as my father's." "I know it." Rush to my arms. Again I clasp my long lost brother!—Again I do!—Again!—Again!—Again!—Ha! Ha! Ha!" (Faints, falls on the stage, rolls over and "shoots" a pistol at the prompter.)

"Business before pleasure," as the man said when he kissed his wife before he went out to make love to his neighbor's.

66-Mantel pieces of marble may be effectually cleansed by rubbing them with a flannel dipped in a weak solution of carbonic acid.

67-When so many people are engaged in trying to kill Time, it is passing strange that the old fellow has so long escaped assassination.

68—"I stand upon the soil of freedom!" cried a stump orator. "No," exclaimed his shenmaker; "you stand in a pair of boots that have never been paid for."

69-Why is a minister like a locomotive? We have to look out for him while the minister.

70-RECEIPT FOR MAKING ICE CREAM.—Take six eggs, one lb. powdered sugar two quart cream; stir well together, then put it in a glass vessel and place it in the bosom of an old bachelor.

71-The Ocean House will be open the first of June, for the reception of permanent and transient visitors. This is decidedly one of the most delightful watering places in New England; the bold and ocean scenery, the beautiful beach, the pleasant walks and rides all combined, render this a desirable place of resort for gentlemen with their families, parties of pleasure, or invalids, to spend the hot summer months. No pains will be spared on the part of the proprietor to sustain the high reputation this house has already deserved. Climate moderate. Sand and swimming baths, horses and carriages, alleys, &c. Direct to Fort Adams, Ocean House, Rye Beach, Tivoli, the Eastern Railroad, stop at Greenwich Depot, N. H., like the Ocean House carriage if you wish to go to the Ocean House on Rye Beach; this is the only public house on this beautiful beach.

The services of Mr. Frederick Risley, late of the American House, Boston, have been engaged at this house for the present summer.
